

WOODWARD
LEWIS

Facilitating change – positively and effectively

Sue Raeside BSc, MCIPD

Sue is an experienced development consultant and trainer who has worked in both public and private sectors and achieved high levels of customer satisfaction with her work.

Specialist Skills

- Executive coaching
- Leadership development
- Psychometric testing (Myers Briggs and Hermann)
- Coaching and mentoring internal trainers
- Development and assessment centres

Sue had a long and successful career in HR and training with J Sainsbury before working as a training and development consultant. Since then she has worked with Woodward Lewis to deliver key team development events for Southwark Council, and also for Airbus, De La Rue, Birkbeck College, BT, IBM and other blue-chip organisations. Her experience in the public sector also includes London Underground, the Home Office and the NHS.

Qualifications

- BSc (Hons) Economics and Politics
- MCIPD
- Diploma in Business Coaching – Newcastle College